

Order under Section 31 Residential Tenancies Act, 2006

File Number: LTB-T-019673-25

In the matter of: 962 QUEENSBOROUGH CRT
Windsor ON N6G5K1

Between: matthew Casagrande Tenant

And

rachelle D'souza Landlord

matthew Casagrande (the 'Tenant') applied for an order determining that rachelle D'souza (the 'Landlord'):

This application was heard by videoconference on March 31, 2026.

The Landlord Rachelle D'souza and the Tenant Matthew Casagrande attended the hearing.

Determinations:

1. As explained below, the Tenant's T2 application is dismissed for lack of particulars.
2. The Tenant filed the T2 application with the Board on March 6, 2025. However, the Tenant filed a blank application that does not list any reason for filing the application, and does not request any remedy.
3. In Ball v Metro Capital Management Inc. [2002] OJ No 5931 (Div Crt), the Divisional Court considered subsection 43(2) of the Act and found that the purpose of requiring that a landlord provide reasons and details in a notice was to: (a) allow the tenant to be in a position to know the case to be met; (b) allow the tenant to decide whether or not to dispute the allegations made by the landlord; and, in the case of a voidable notice, and (c) allow the tenant to stop the conduct or activity or correct the omission. Thus, to comply with subsection 43(2) of the Act, a notice should include the dates and times of the alleged conduct, together with a detailed description of the alleged conduct.
4. While Ball dealt with a notice of termination under s. 64 of the Act, I find that the test applies equally to tenant applications, including those brought under section 31, of the Act.

5. I find that the T2 application lacked the specific detailed information needed to put the Landlord on notice to know the case to be met in preparation of the hearing. The Landlord cannot be expected to respond to vague allegations on an application. It would be unfair to the Landlord to learn of the details for the first time at the hearing. Therefore, the application must be dismissed.

It is ordered that:

1. The Tenant's application is dismissed.
